Prejudices on this subject, like all others, are hard to remove; but if farmers would consider the question fairly, and what is better, if they will try both kinds of plows, they will find the left hand plow decidedly preferable. As a general rule, farming in Pennsylvania is thought to be better done than it is in Virginia; but in some parts of Virginia, particularly the counties of Clarke and Jefferson, ploughing is better done than it is generally in Pennsylvania; and one reason of this is the use of three-horse left hand plows. In those counties two horse plows are rarely seen, and right-hand plows are never seen. There are three reasons, not very potent, but sufficiently so to decide the question, why left-hand plows should be preferred. The first is, any horse which does not walk too fast makes a good leader, and all know, before the introduction of left-hand plows, the greatest recommendation to a work-horse was being a barshear, leader. Secondly, the plow cuts uniformly a given quantity of land; and thirdly, when back-furrowing, the horses turn, at the ends, to the left, which is better than turning to the right, because in this case the leader has to push the other horse around, which takes up time and injures the horses' feet materially by treading on each other—whereas, turning to the left, the leader pulls the other horses easily around, and they do not hurt each other's feet and ankles. The advantage of back furrowing is, the horses tramping the unploughed ground at the end of each furrow, which is not the case when the ploughing is done in lands. Then they walk out at the extremity of every furrow on the ploughed ground, which renders it unfit for the seed until it is ploughed again.

Now, if the left-hand plough costs more than the right-hand, or if there could be any reason assigned in favor of the right-hand plough which the left-hand does not possess, we would not take up our time urging the superiority of the left hand plough for the reasons we have given. Both kinds are alike, except in those particulars we have named; and they are sufficient to induce every farmer, when he is obliged to buy a plough, to choose a left-hand, whether it be for two or three horses—Religious Herald.

CONDITION OF OUR BOTTOM LAND.

Whilst I have pen in hand, I will offer a few remarks relative to the present condition of our bottom lands.

When the streams were in their natural state, every freshet would impel the currents to strike the curves in the stream with such force that the washings or sand were floated or thrown on the adjoining lands: consequently, the bed of the stream remained stationary. This fact every owner of bottom lands has noticed. But since the streams have been straightened, do they throw out the same amount of washings as when in their natural state? No, verily; but, on the contrary, they have continued to accumulate in the bed of the streams until the banks have become so shallow that they afford no protection to the bottom lands, consequently they are nearly valueless.

I have observed when a stream has been straight end near its source, that it is not so liable to fill up; but when it extends for miles, the reverse is the invariable result.

Some twenty-five years ago, an old and intelligent friend, who owned valuable bottom lands, directed my attention to the mistaken policy of straightening the creeks, and regretted having fallen into this error, as he found after his creek was made straight, the sands were accumulating in the channel, the banks were shallower, and his bottom lands more subject to be overflowed, (although the stream has been straightened in its whole length below him,) and he feared that from this cause his lands would ultimately be ruined; and how truly has the foreboding been verified; for at this day these lands are nearly worthless.—This stream in its natural state, had excellent banks.

If this theory is deemed erroneous, I would ask, why is it that the rivers are not filled up? Are they not governed by the same natural laws as the smaller streams in their primeval state?

Entertaining these views, I think we should go back to first principles, and give our ditches a serpentine curve to reclaim our bottom lands, which should be carried through the whole length of the stream.

It is with some degree of diffidence that I submit the above views to your consideration and that of your readers, lest they might be deemed a vagary; yet I have arrived at these conclusions from observation and the teachings of nature, which are the chart by which we are enabled to substitute philosophy for error.—WM. R. HATCHETT, in the Southern Planter and Farmer.

HUNGARIAN GRASS OR MILLET.—The Hungarian grass, or some variety of millet, may be profitably used to increase the supply of winter provender. It makes a rich and well-relished fodder for horses and cattle, and yields a heavy burden on rich or well manured loam. The ground should be put in fine condition, and everything in readiness for sowing by the first of June. A peck of seed makes a sufficient sowing.

CURE FOR RINGBONE.—A correspondent of the Rural New Yorker says that he has known a horse that went for twelve months on three legs from ringbone, made perfectly sound by the application, once a day, of an ointment composed of half an ounce of red precipitate; half an ounce of blue stone; half a pint of turpentine, thoroughly mixed. Keep the hoof greased.

In every 100 pounds cow's urine there are 93 pounds of water, 5 pounds of urea, 5 pounds of phosphate of lime, 12 pounds of sal ammoniac and muriate potash and ammonia. Urine is more efficient on light soils, than on clay and strong loams; on the latter much of its carbonate of ammonia is evolved before it can penetrate into them.

CHIP MANURE.—A subscriber says he has a quantity of chip manure on a small farm and would like to know if it is good as a top dressing for wet land. [Not very.] Is it valuable for compositing with other fertilizers?" [Yes] "Is it good for dry land, ploughed or harrowed in?" [Yes, both]. In short, well-rotted chip manure is very good for almost any soil and for all crops, if there are not too many wire worms in it. To kill these, compost it or mix well with lime and salt, or lime slaked with urine.—American Agriculturalist.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

MONDAY, JUNE 7, 1869.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?

No popular government can last that is not upheld by the calm and deliberate judgment of an intelligent people. Popular intelligence supported by public virtue constitute the indispensable basis of popular government. If ignorance and passion rule, anarchy is the necessary consequence. Ignorance and passion recognize no rule of right or fitness of things; they go on by aimless force; they constitute the life of mobs, and they sweep down governments, just as they sweep down the powerless victim of their fury.

These general principles are applicable to the government of the American Union and the several States composing it. They cannot last unsupported by public virtue and popular intelligence. This was the opinion of the founders of our system and it is sustained by all experience, as well as the reason of the thing.

The logic of events in this country for the last decade of years, affords matter for the most solemn reflection on the part of the American people.

We find in the first place that the American people quarreled among themselves about the merest abstractions and impossibilities, as for example, whether a Southern man should have the right to take his slave into territory belonging to the Union, where he never would in the nature of things, want to take him, and this public quarrel was continued until ignorance and passion overcame reason supported by intelligence, and the result was the late civil war. Without regard to who was censurable for such quarrel, the result was such as we have stated. If reason supported by popular intelligence had prevailed, then there had been no war. There was no practical reason for it, and a people governed by reason and intelligence will not fight about nothing.

Then we see in the next place, that the American people are not profiting by the sad experience of war, on the contrary, they give greater license to ignorance and passion; they consent, not in the light of reason or necessity, but to gratify feelings of revenge on the part of the majority and to humiliate and degrade the minority, to subvert the Constitution of the common country, and thereby to say the least, to establish a precedent, the most dangerous conceivable, for all time to come. The whole spirit of the people is changed and the government is changed. Without going into details for this would take too much time, look at the wilful and constant abuse of the right of habeas corpus during the war, the exercise of unnecessary and unauthorized war powers, and the monstrous character of measures called "Reconstruction laws," since the war. And what is worse, the popular mind, especially at the North, is rapidly becoming educated to believe these measures all right and patriotic and proper, not in the eye of reason and sound constitutional policy, but eminently right in the view of passion and popular prejudice! In pursuance of this blind policy of passion, and direct violation of the spirit of American government, we see the American people in this moment of frenzied triumph with passion blazing, hotter, not only to liberate four millions of ignorant slaves, but to enfranchise them and give them virtual control of ten States of the Union, while thousands of the most intelligent citizens of the Union, are rendered ineligible to hold office, unless they will consent to become the blatant advocates of the party in power and urge all their schemes. And, more than this, we see the American people in the moment of reckless triumph, hurrying to incorporate into the Constitution of the common country the miserable idea of universal suffrage without regard to any measure of intelligence or virtue, public or private. We see the tendency of legislation in the several States all over the Union to give way to popular demands, whether supported by reason, intelligence or necessity.

Without following this unpleasant topic further now, we add, that this logic of events does not argue a very healthy state of popular sentiment in the American Union, and affords matter for the solemn consideration of every patriot, whatever may be the insane ravings of a mere partizan or fanatic.

Eight horse-slaughtering establishments at Stettin, Prussia, turned out last year 800 carcasses and 320,000 pounds of meat.—Exchange.

Stettin, it will be remembered, is the official field to which our late eminent Attorney General, Coleman, has been sent.—We had intended to suggest to friend Whitaker to send him his Friend of Temperance to that place, but if Coleman is compelled to make his stomach a horse stable, he will be obliged to lay in a supply of rye or corn in some shape, (the liquid most congenial) in way of provender.

DECLINED.—John Hancock a bricklayer of Hillsboro, declined the majority of that town as tendered by the Governor, upon the ground that people might take him for a worthless character, as Holden rarely appointed any other to office.

John said some of the Governors magistrates had been in Jail oftener than in the Court House. We regret that one of our intelligent neighbours recently declined the office of magistrate, when tendered by the Governor. We think it was his duty to have accepted. Good men should not decline because bad are appointed.

SORGHUM.

A correspondent of the Richmond Whig speaking of the profit of the sorghum cane as a crop, says:

"I made last year 160 gallons and disposed of a great deal of it in payment of wages at 75 cents per gallon, and could have disposed of 500 gallons. It is really, if anything more attractive to the day laborers than money—certainly more so than any other form of provisions for their families.

I hope in a year or two that we may be able to make our own sugar, and that to a family like mine, that consumes a veral hundred pounds annually, will be a boon of no slight magnitude.

It was recently announced in the Louisville Courier and Journal that a company had been organized there to make sugar from sorghum, with improved apparatus, on a large scale, so that the practicability of crystalizing the syrup may be considered established. Let our people learn to make sugar from the sorgoum and beet crops and they will save thousands of dollars.

It may not be generally known, but ought to be, that excellent sugar has been, and can be made from the sorghum sugar cane, by means and apparatus that are within the reach of almost every farmer in the country, and that a patent has been taken out and an agent is now in the State for the purpose of selling rights for its manufacture.

Mr. Soutter, of Kittrell's Springs, has the right for Granville, and, perhaps, some of the adjoining counties, and will dispose of individual rights to any one who has the cane growing and who may wish to try the experiment of sugar making. Our own opinion is that the manufacture of sugar from sorghum is perfectly feasible, and may be done so as to reduce the price of sugar to the consumer in the State considerably below that which we have to pay for it now. We saw, last winter, samples of sorghum sugar, exhibited by Mr. Beasley, the Agent for the State, which would compare favorably with best Southern or West Indian brown sugars. Of course it is too late in the season to plant the cane the present year, but we think it would be a good plan for our farmers to think of this matter and inform themselves thoroughly in regard to it by the next spring, and be prepared then to act as their judgements and interests may dictate.

CONSOLIDATION.

After striking out that portion of a stockholders communication which we regard as irrelevant to the question, we give place to it, that both sides may be heard. The Governor is reported to be for consolidation. Hence it is that the friends of consolidation are sanguine of success. The G— may disappoint them. We think Littlefield and the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company will be able to make him reverse his position on that subject, besides he was never known to remain long on one side of any important question.

CONSOLIDATION.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—A newspaper ever opened to the best interests of a State would not, I am sure, disregard any offering possessing merits which might be adduced, either for or against so important a measure as the consolidation of the North Carolina and the Atlantic & North Carolina Rail Roads. A question of greater importance is seldom presented to your readers, therefore the necessity for all persons to thoroughly investigate it—for all are to a greater or less extent interested in this great movement. In our argument which will be against so ruinous a measure as we conceive this to be, we will, unlike its strongest and almost only advocate whose motives can be fairly traced to selfish ends, (notwithstanding his many boasts of State pride,) deal only with facts and figures.

Now, we will state that the advocates of consolidation claim by its being effected, that the freights which now find a safe, cheap, and short outlet and inlet via Portsmouth, the S. & R. Railroad, and R. & G. Railroad, and even passengers as asserted, would all be turned via Goldsboro', the A. & N. C. Railroad, and Morehead City. To prove the fallacy of such assumptions and surmises on their part, we have only to state undeniable facts, and of which we defy contradiction.

After many solicitations on the part of the officers of the N. C. Railroad Company, they naturally desiring that shippers should have the choice of as many routes as practicable, by which to ship their freights they at last succeeded in making through rates and arrangements with the officers of the Murray Steamship Company, and the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad Company, and also with the New York and North Carolina Steamship line, and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Company. By this arrangement the roads were as effectually consolidated, and as many inducements offered shippers to ship via either of these routes as can ever be offered, were the roads indeed consolidated, and under the management of one set of officers.

The arrangements are such that a car, loaded, locked and sealed in Charlotte, would be delivered in Newbern, Morehead City or Wilmington, is a like condition close connections made at Goldsboro,' and the advantage of the freights from Goldsboro' to Raleigh being transported by mail train. Soliciting agents were sent out, and the lines thoroughly advertised, and last though not least, rates made with these lines greatly discriminating against any other route per mile per pound. For instance, the North Carolina Railroad delivered and received first class freights, such as agricultural implements, boots, shoes, hats, caps, dry goods, drugs, medicines, liquors, &c., &c., at Goldsboro,' and transported the same to or from—say Company Shops, which is near the centre of the road, and about a fair comparison of the two tariffs, for 56 per cent. less than is charged on the same articles per mile when they go via Raleigh, while articles in the second class are transported for 57 per cent less, third class for 58 per cent., and fourth class for 46 per cent less, while to and from other stations the discrimination is still greater in favor of the lower route, for instance, first class freights are transported to and from Hillsboro' for 71 per cent. less, second class 73 per cent. less, third class 71 per cent., and fourth class for 53 per cent. less, than is charged on the very same articles when they go via the Seaboard Inland Airline Freight Route.

Yet, with all this discrimination of rates and the advantages offered the lower route, what do we find to be the result? In comparison to the quantity of freights that find their way via Portsmouth, the shorter, cheaper and quicker route, there is scarcely any one that goes via Morehead City or Newbern, and but little via Wilmington, yet much more than via Morehead City or Newbern. This is owing to the heavy insurance via these routes, and which will ever remain so, unless nature removes the dangers of the North Carolina coast.

Now, we ask, with all this discrimination of rates in their favor, and yet being entirely unable to compete, upon what grounds do the advocates of consolidation build up their hopes to influence the freights and passengers via Newbern or Morehead City? especially when we take into consideration that by the article of consolidation they will not be allowed to discriminate against any route per pound per mile. To force freights and passengers via these routes there must be further legislation, making it a punishable offence to ship or travel via any other route. Producing and consuming Stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad, are you going to consent to such imposition, simply to make good the debts of the A. & N. C. Railroad Co., and the selfish advocates of this ruinous measure?

Such are alone the advocates of consolidation, and of whom we would ask you to beware. Consider well before you vote for any thing so ruinous to every interest of North Carolina. The North Carolina Rail road is now fast recovering from the devastating effects of the late war, indeed more so than any Company within our knowledge. Its freights and passengers are daily increasing. Energy and prosperity seems to reign over its entire length, and from a tabular statement from the secretary of this Company the receipts have never been so large, and the expenditures so small as the year.—Then, well done for the officers of this Company.

Let us be content to let well enough alone, and not kill the prosperity of so flourishing a Company by adding a dead weight to it as the A. & N. C. R. R. would prove, and that to be carried for ninety years; at the end of which time I dare say children now unborn would discuss the folly of their truly unwise forefathers. Oppose this measure, and in a few years the stock of the N. C. R. R. Co. will be at par if not worth a premium. You will receive, yearly, a handsome dividend, and agree with us in saying that there is more honor in having a road on a 223 miles long in a prosperous and paying condition than one 312 miles long that would be an expense to the State, as the North Carolina and the Atlantic & North Carolina Rail Roads would prove if consolidated.

A STOCKHOLDER IN BOTH ROADS.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY OF FUEL.—We have reliable information of the recent discovery at Buffalo Gap, eleven miles west of Staunton, Va., on the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, of a vein of pure anthracite coal some nine feet in thickness. It has long been known that inexhaustible deposits of iron ore existed in this region; but they were only worked very slightly before the war, on account of the scarcity of the proper fuel. This discovery of anthracite within a half mile of the great line of railway which will soon connect the Ohio with the James by the shortest route is a matter of the greatest interest to Washington, Richmond, and Norfolk, all of which cities are now obliged to draw upon Philadelphia for their supplies. It will also stimulate exploration of the iron mines in that region, and the development of the two deposits will necessarily add immensely to the traffic of the Chesapeake and Ohio and Orange and Alexandria railways.

The work on the Chesapeake and Ohio road westward from Covington is progressing very rapidly to White Sulphur Springs, in Greenbrier county, to which place it will be completed by the 25th instant. In view of all these facts, the importance of this deposit of coal to all the adjacent country can hardly be overestimated.—National Intelligencer, 4th.

THE LAST OF HIS RACE.—The last of a race which died with him, Billy Lanny, known as "King Billy," the last of the aboriginal natives of Tasmania, has died at Hobart Town. For a long time he had followed the life of a whaler, and was very popular among the seamen, as a good natured, jolly fellow, and an amusing companion. He was not particularly proud of his ancestry, and, when his portrait was taken by Mr. Wooley, in 1858 for the International Exhibition, he objected to the photographs as being "too black for him." He was, however, a pure-bred Tasmanian aborigine, and as black as a sloe. He was on the regatta ground in January, 1868, when his Royal Highness, the Duke of Edinburgh, patronized that festival, and attired in a blue suit, with a gold lace band round his cap, he was presented to the Prince, who received him with kind consideration.

RADICAL TEACHING.—A contractor on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad was in this city yesterday engaging colored hands to work on a section in Prince George's county, Md., at one dollar and seventy-five cents per day, and had succeeded in obtaining the requisite number, when some of the local Radical politicans told them that they would not receive one cent while away, and that the whole thing was a rebel trick to get them out of the city and keep them away until after the registration closed. Upon such information, though assured to the contrary by gentlemen of standing in the community, those whose names were down on the contractor's books broke their engagements, and said they would rather start for the penitentiary than to go to Maryland.—Alexandria Gazette.

The Rockford (Illinois) Register referring to Mrs. Dixon, who shot her husband dead in that city a few days since, says that at the time she fired the fatal shot she was sitting behind him and so near that the muzzle of the pistol almost touched his back. After the fatal deed, and the pistol was wrenched from her by her victim, she fell back unconscious, and has remained in that condition during almost the time that has since elapsed. In her intervals of consciousness she seems to have no recollection of what has happened, but appears to be looking forward with dread to the interview with her husband. She calls for her babe frequently, even while it is lying in her arms, and seems to fear some one is coming to take it from her. The day she committed the deed was the first she had risen from her bed since her confinement.

ALASKA NEWSPAPERS.—Through the kindness of Lieutenant L. C. Cowan, of the revenue cutter Reliance, which was fitted out at Baltimore for duty in Pacific waters, we have received the first numbers of the Alaska Times, a newspaper published on Friday of each week at Sitka, Alaska Territory. The paper is a lively sheet, neatly printed, containing advertisements of every character, including saloons and churches, masonic lodges, banks, insurance companies, orphan asylum, a school by a school marm, auctioneers, &c., &c. In the last number of the paper, dated May 14th, we find mention of the marriage of Mr. William Phillipson, or Mr. Bill, as he is lovingly called by his fellow citizens, a pioneer in Sitka, to a native lass of the town; a row and the robbery of a Russian church are also recorded, showing progress.—Bull Sun.

A miserable and disloyal Bohemian, who corresponds for a copperhead paper, in writing: "As the twig is bent the tree's inclined," purposely destroyed its beauty, if not the poise, by writing: "As the twig is Dent the chief's inclined"—what meanness!

A man in Bosque, Texas, whose son had been shot, by pure accident, by another man, went to church where the latter was engaged in worship, strode up to him, and shot both the man and his little girl seated by his side.

ALLEGED POLITICAL OUTRAGES IN GEORGIA.

We respectfully direct the attention of the Tribune to the statements of our Georgia correspondent respecting alleged political murders in that State. The Tribune has endorsed the demand of Wendell Phillips and his fanatical friends for the interference of the Executive in the affairs of Georgia, on the ground that active Republicans have fallen victims to "rebellious hate." The cases of Asaburn, Ayer, and Adkins have been singled out for special comment as illustrations of capital crime perpetrated for political reasons. In every indictment against the Georgians these cases are adduced as proof of the perils that surround Northern "loyalty" and "patriotism in their midst. These falsehoods and delusions are ruthlessly dispelled by the tale this morning told by our Georgian informant.—New York Times.

THE MURDER OF ASHBURN, AYER, AND ADKINS.

From the Georgia Correspondence of the New York Times.

Politics have no more to do with the murders which have taken place in Georgia than the religion, dress, height, or personal appearance of the victims. Ashburn was killed by the company which usually frequents negro houses of ill-fame, of one of which he was an inmate. Ayer was killed by a negro who had refused to allow him to become a boarder in a negro lodging-house. Both Ashburn and Ayer were men of abandoned character and most profligate habits; and, however, for greater political emphasis their names may be paraded as the "Honorable" Mr. Ashburn and the "Honorable" Mr. Ayer, those who know their history, if they tell the truth, must admit that long before either had any political aspirations no decent negro would have permitted them to associate with him. Adkins, who is represented by the writers of sensation romances for political effect as a venerable preacher of the Gospel, was also a notorious debaucher. The negro amours are more numerous than the number of his years. He was at one time a Baptist exhorter, but for many years, since his example was found to square so ill with his precepts, he has been regarded as a very disreputable hypocrite, with whom nobody but the lowest and most abandoned had any associations. These are the facts, which can be corroborated by the testimony of thousands, whose word nobody who knows them would hesitate to believe. I would not depart from the rule to say anything but good of the dead, if it were not necessary to protect the living against cruel misrepresentation and wrong. Is it any thing surprising that a man who takes up his residence in a negro brothel, and has no associates but those who frequent such places, should meet a violent death? Is it wonderful that a man who has fallen so low as to be even refused admission to a negro boarding house, and who was known to have several hundred dollars on his person, should be robbed and murdered as he wandered about among the negro cabins asking for a place to lay his head? Or is it so unnatural that one addicted to the lowest profligacy, and who, it is proved, made indecent overtures to a respectable young lady, should fall a victim to the anger of the friends and relatives of the insulted girl? It is true that all three were Radical politicians. It is true that they were brutally murdered. But they were murdered for their vices by some of their vicious associates; or, as in the case of Adkins, they were murdered by those whose honor and the sanctity of whose family they attempted to outrage. Let any man select the same society and character of residence in any part of the world, as did Ashburn and Ayer, or let him pursue the same habit of life as did Adkins, and the wonder would be that he should die a natural death.

The following good camp story has not yet, we believe, been honored with a place in Gen. Hill's "Haversack," (or "havock sack," as the boys use to style that historic war bag,) nor otherwise got into print:

In one of the first North Carolina Regiments, organized "for the defence of our rights," (see circular of Col. O. H. Dockery, 1862,) there was a company from Montgomery county, in which our excellent friend, William Ewing, held the position of 1st Lieutenant. Although generally a favorite with the men of his command, Lt. Ewing had the misfortune to incur the displeasure of an Englishman named Lippitt, who lost no opportunity of testifying his want of appreciation of that officer. In the same Regiment there was a company of Hoosiers from one of the western counties. One of these men happened to be in want of an axe, a very necessary utensil, but not very plenty in the Rebel camp. In passing about through the Regiment in quest of the article, he approached Lippitt's fire, and, seeing an axe lying near, he asked, in the true western dialect, "Is that you'ns axe?" The enraged Englishman, throwing upon him a look of mingled indignation and scorn, exclaimed: "Ewings be d—d! Do you think everything in this company belongs to Ewings?"—Wadesboro Argus.

A Paris fashion correspondent tells of the costume Eugenie wore at Princess Mathilde's party. It was a robe, flounced with three different shades of coral rose, the red, the pink, and pale pink, over this a lace train strewn with different colored roses, diamonds and roses in her hair. Another is one she wore in the first performances of the "Filleul de Pompignac." It was a white tulle, sprinkled with silver, and the flounces divided by silver galloon all around the bottom; she had diamonds in her hair. The costume she wore at the cattle show of Chartres was ash gray, looped with mauve cord and tassels. Her bonnet was a diadem of purple and mauve grapes, with leaves of ruddy brown. The toilet of the Countess de Pourtales at a recent ball given by her was a vaporous white tulle cloud.—In her fair hair she wore the plumes of Austria, black and white, with a diamond snap; in her bodice two plumes on the left side, with diamond brooch, while Mme de Metternich, who opened the ball with the Duke, was in aristocratic muslin, ornamented with silver and gold wheat spears and alternate peacock's feathers.

SAD CASE.—At the New York Court of General Sessions, last week, a beautiful young woman named Rebecca Fitch, the daughter of wealthy parents, was on trial for stealing wearing apparel and jewelry to the value of $69. She was dressed in deep mourning, was in tears, and her appearance was well calculated to awaken pity. Yet she had been twice previously imprisoned for theft—once in the State prison and once in the penitentiary—and ran away from the penitentiary with and married young Frieu, the son of the keeper. Her father despairing of her, and physicians deciding that she was not a kleptomaniac, but simply vicious, the Court, upon receiving the jury's verdict of guilty, sentenced her to the State prison for three years.

THE FLORIDA ORANGE CROP.—The St. Augustine Examiner, of the 29th ultimo, says: "The orange crop will not be a failure, as was anticipated from last Winter's frost. The trees are looking well and the fruit seems to be in abundance. We are informed that some of the groves in this county on the St. John's will bear larger crops than last year."

DIED!

At Haywood, Chatham County, April 13th, of consumption, James Robert Fennett son of Robert and Lotith S. Fennett, aged 24 years, 1 month and 5 days. He was a brave and faithful soldier in the late Confederate service.

Explanatory Drawing.—The Drawing by the Real and Personal Estate Agency anxiously looked for by persons who had taken stock came off on Saturday, according to published programme. The weather was wrong, but the expectant people were not deterred by that, and were in numbers to Tucker Hall to watch the operation. A good deal of excitement was caused when the owners of lucky tickets claimed their prizes as their number was drawn.

J. M. Blair, Esq., of the Yarborough House, drew the $650 piano; Mr. Wesley Whitaker drew a $50 china set, and Mrs. Pepper, wife of the conductor, drew a $12 hearth rug. Very many of the tickets were sold out of town, and we have not the names of the holders. Every one was gratified with the arrangements of the drawing, and this augurs well for the grand drawing of which this is explanatory.—Standard.

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONDAY, JUNE 7, 1869.

Cotton, in New York, at noon to-day, firm at 30½.

"Hear land o' cakes and brither Scots,
Fra Maidon Kirk to John o' Groats,
If there's a hole in a' your coats
I rede ye tent it;
A chiel's amang ye takin' notes,
And, faith, he'll prent it."

We make our bow, as the Local of the Sentinel, to-day. We shall try to make our column as interesting as the nature of passing events will enable us to do. We shall endeavor to avoid giving offence to anybody, but shall take such liberties with persons and things, in chronicling actions and events, as, in our judgment, the nature of the work we have undertaken, and general custom among newspapers, shall seem to warrant. We are not exactly new to the harness, but have gotten a little behind hand in current news and, gossip, and will therefore, require a few days to get "the hang" of things.

To the members of the fraternity with whom we exchanged professional courtesy in former days we look for a kindly greeting. With those who have come in since we have been out, we hope the intercourse will be equally pleasant. We have our views on all subjects, political, social and religious, and in the main, we believe our views are right; we suppose every man thinks the same in regard to his own views. We shall attack errors, especially political errors, when we think we discover them in others, and they can do the same by us. We'll give them "the best we've got in the shop," and if sometimes we should strike earnestly and vigorously, it must be taken as an evidence of our zeal in defence of what believe to be truth.

We are always open to conviction on the subject of ice cream, soda, smoking tobacco, turtle soup, and the thousand little tokens of appreciation so congenial to the feelings of all who labor for the interest, amusement and instruction of a generous public.

POSTPONED.—The second explanatory drawing of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, which should according to advertisement, have taken place on last Saturday afternoon, has been postponed until the 11th inst., at which time, we are assured it will certainly come off.

We notice in the city a number of distinguished gentlemen in attendance on the Federal Court, from other parts of the State, among them Judge G. W. Brooks, Hon. A. W. Parsons of Pitts., Hon. W. N. H. Smith, Hon. Thos. C. Fuller, J. J. Yates, Esq., H. G. Gilliam Esq., Judge W. B. Rodman, C. S. Winstead Esq., and Judge D. A. Barnes.

There are a large number of persons from different counties as jurors, witnesses or parties in suits in the Federal Court, giving the city quite a brisk and lively aspect.

Judge Chase has not yet arrived but will probably be here to-morrow.

KEEP COOL.—Don't take on too much tangle-leg nor crowd the stomach too full of lager beer, but if you wish to feel first rate inside, call at Bradley and Christopher's and imbibe a frothy, foamy glass of their excellent soda water. We tried it to-day and can recommend it.

BROKEN GROUND.—We notice a number of hands taking up the old paving stones on Market Square, to-day, preparatory to laying the foundation of the new Market House. "If it were done when it were done, then it were well it were done quickly," but there is a leg to be sold before you see doing the work and paying for the job.

Another unfortunate insane man was brought to the Asylum, on Tuesday last and was obliged to be carried to his home in Edgecombe for want of room. The Institution is now full, and at least one hundred applications still on file. And of course none can be received until discharges occur.

Every Sheriff throughout the State has been notified by circular officially, not to bring patients, without previous correspondence with the Superintendent.

The $100,000 thrown away on the Deep River Penitentiary site would have added sufficient accommodations to the Asylum for these unfortunates but,—well, it went another way.

COMPLAINTS.—We hear frequent complaints of a breach of the city ordinance in regard to forestalling. We cannot locate any particular instance of such breach, but if there be just ground of complaint on this subject we think the proper authorities ought to look to it, and remedy the evil. The propriety of laws to prevent forestalling is perfectly apparent upon the least reflection, and consequently they are adopted and enforced in all cities having a regular market.

R. M. COLLEGE.—We are indebted to the Committee for an invitation to attend the Commencement exercises of Randolph Macon College on the 23d and 24th of the present month. Bishop Wightman will preach the annual sermon at 11 o'clock on Sunday the 20th. On the 22nd the Address before the Alumni will be delivered by John Lyon, Esq., of Petersburg, Va., in the forenoon, and in the afternoon the Address before the Washington and Franklin Literary Societies will be delivered by Gen. John S. Preston, of Columbia, S. C.

SALE OF LOTS.—Seven unimproved lots of about one acre each in size, lying a little beyond the Southern boundary of the City, were sold at auction at the Court House door to day, bringing prices ranging from one hundred and sixty to two hundred and twenty five dollars. Six of them were knocked off to Sheriff Lee, and one to Mr. David Royster.

Twelve lots lying beyond St. Mary's, containing about six acres each, were sold at the same time, and brought prices ranging from fifty to one hundred and twenty five dollars each. The terms of sale on all these lots were, one sixth cash and the remainder to be paid in twelve months.

SEVERAL tracts of land in the county were sold by the Sheriff, under execution, most of them subject to dower or other incumbrance and went off at a mere song.

THE COURTS.—The United States Circuit Court, Judge G. W. Brooks, presiding, organized this morning in the Senate Chamber. No business, we believe, of any importance, was transacted, though we understand the docket is a large one.

Messrs. R. W. Lassiter, J. C. Rea, H. T. Jordan, Hon. W. H. Battle and W. A. Moore, were, on motion, admitted to practice in the Court. After calling the list of jurors the Court adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

THE SUPREME COURT of the State also convened this morning at their Chambers. All of the Judges were present except Judge Reade, who we learn is detained at home by sickness in his family.

The case of the Heron Mining Co. came up; and, by agreement of the counsel, the sale was postponed until Thursday next. Notwithstanding the late rumors concerning the appointment of Victor Barringer, Lewis P Olds appeared and acted as Attorney General. This tribunal will probably be in session for the next six weeks, as there is a large amount of business to come before it.

ON A STRIKE.—The stone-cutters in Philadelphia have struck for an increase of wages, and the apprentices demand but nine hours as a day's labor. The stone-cutters have been receiving $4 a day, and working nine hours, but now they ask for $5 per day. The apprentices have all along been compelled to work ten hours daily.

The quarrel between Governor Reed, of Florida, and the State Legislature has resulted in a virtual repudiation of the State debt, the Governor having arranged with the State Treasurer to refuse to pay the interest accruing on a large amount of bonds issued by direction of the Legislature for the purpose of carrying on the State business.

A young girl, eleven years old, named Mary Shane, has been arrested in Syracuse, charged with poisoning a child and setting fire to a dwelling house. She had been taken from the poorhouse against her wish and put to work in the family of Mr. F. B. Edgerton. She threatened to poison the children and set fire to the house, but no notice was taken of her threat. She, however, carried it out in part. The child poisoned has been saved, and the fire set was extinguished before much damage was done.

In the steamer Tarifa, which arrived at Boston on Sunday morning, the following address was inscribed upon a piece of baggage:

"Boston Massakaptynhaineoordamerika, a tatsneofwe consintryvontu eksitywoopuntoalso. H. G."

One of the most skillful of the custom house officers, says the Journal, translated a portion of it as follows: "Boat Mules, Captain Hains, North America, State of Wisconsin, in country, Fon du Lac;" but what "Woopuntoalso" means no one has as yet been able to make out.

At Bucharest, recently, a brigand of Herculean strength was about to be hung for murder. He burst the straps which bound him, like flax, seized the executioner, and hanged him before assistance could arrive. He was thereupon appointed to his victim's office.

STATE NEWS.

DROWNED.—We learn from the Wilmington Star that a boat containing five men was upset in Masonboro Inlet, below Wilmington, on Thursday morning last, and one of the men, John A. Farrar, was drowned. Two of the others saved themselves by swimming to the shore, and the other two by climbing up on the capsized boat.

EARLY.—"Roosting Ears" have made their appearance—grains fully developed—in Wilmington. So says the Star.

HORSE THIEF AT LARGE.—Darnville, arrested for horse stealing, in Warren county, was bailed last week, and immediately left for parts unknown, and is now at large.—We subjoin a description of him that the public may be on the look out for him.

He is about six feet two inches high, quite built very straight, light sandy hair and beard, gray eyes, walks with rather a careless stride and is very easy and remarkably self-possessed in conversation, and is about twenty five years old. He wore a gray cassimere suit of clothes of which he swindled a country merchant before leaving.

THE CROPS.—So far in this section of country the crops are promising—the wheat crop especially, gives evidence of an abundant yield. It is well headed, and comparatively free of rust and smut. Corn is small, but looking well.—Salisbury Banner.

The City Bank of Charlotte, under the direction of H. B. Peters as President, and Col. W. A. Williams as Cashier, has been closed. We regret to learn that some of our citizens have lost considerably.—Carolina Times.

A murderess having been convicted in Massachusetts, the New York Tribune says: "Mrs. Nancy B. Madan has been found guilty of murder in the first degree, at Dedham, Mass. Exceptions have been taken, but if these are overruled, what is the State of Massachusetts to do with this woman? Hang her? Certainly not. The moral feeling of the Commonwealth would not bear it.

The "moral feeling" of Massachusetts bore very well the hanging of Mrs. Surratt, a lady, for a crime of which every one now believes her as innocent as the child unborn. What delicate sensibilities, to be sure!—Salt Statesman.

It has been said that the Mormon women are generally very unhappy—or at least appear to be so; but a Gentile who has been in Salt Lake City some time informs us that, although it is no uncommon thing to see the wives and daughters of the principal Mormons at the theatre in calico dress, plain bonnets and modest unassuming demeanors, very many of them exhibit a desire to be noticed, and an inclination to flirt. Woman is woman all the world over, whether in calico or satins.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Revenue to-day $620,503.

Charles Langston, colored, has been appointed to the mission to Liberia.

In the case of James Weaver, a citizen of Texas, tried for murder, convicted and sentenced to be hung by a Military Commission, the Attorney General has given an opinion in which he reviews the reconstruction laws and the duties of the commanding officer, and says as the State of Texas had not in September, 1866, and has not since adopted the Constitution in conformity with the provisions of the act of Congress, and has not become entitled to representation in Congress, that act was operative in Texas at the time the Military Commission was organized for the trial of Weaver, and the commanding General exercised the discretion entrusted to him by the third section by deciding that it was necessary a military commission should be organized for the trial.

If, therefore, the statute of March 3d, 1867, is a constitutional and valid statute it then appears that the jurisdiction of the said military commission was complete and that there is no legal obstacle to the execution of the sentence. The Attorney General maintains that the right of war did not necessarily terminate with the cessation of actual hostilities and not until the work of restoring the relations of peace shall have been accomplished can it be so considered. It is for Congress to determine when the war has so far ended that the work can be safely and successfully completed. The Attorney General sees no reason in law for withholding the President's approval of the findings. During the argument the Attorney General says it is obvious that Congress under the Constitution has no right in time of peace to subject any citizen of a State to trial and punishment by military power.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—Col. Weir has returned to Fort Hays from pursuing the Indians who committed the outrages at Fossil Creek. He did not overtake them. Another scouting party was sent out by Gen. Custer yesterday morning. About one hundred Indians were seen last evening within a mile of Sheridan with a rolling hotsted.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 5.—The moderate speech of Lord Clarendon in the House of Lords last night upon the Alabama claims treaty elicited the following comments from the press:

The Times, referring to the claims of Americans, says: "Considering the really concessions of England, we wonder the latter got off so well. The rejection of the treaty was more a lucky chance than the result of the firmness of anybody engaged in behalf of Great Britain.

The Standard says: "Negotiations for the Alabama treaty failed because America never intended them to succeed. If England now says that it is her duty to renew her efforts for a peaceful settlement it is without hope. Our honest desire for such a settlement will not be appreciated but by a small section of the American people. In the meantime, until the details of Motley's mission are known, we should fold our hands and limit our compliments to him as a great historian."

The Star says Americans can no longer doubt our willingness to do them right, or our determination to preserve our national character and credit.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 5.—M. Savaletta officially declares that the wide rumors published in the newspapers recently were without any foundation.

BRUSSELS, June 5.—The upper chamber has confirmed the bill recently passed by the lower house to abolish imprisonment for debt.

SPAIN.

MADRID, June 5.—Admiral Lobeto read Dulce's telegram announcing his resignation as Captain General to Cuba before the Cortes last evening. Great excitement prevailed. Martial Serrano asked for a suspension of judgment until the arrival of Dulce and until the particulars in the matter were known. It is rumored Gen. Dulce was recalled on account of his loyalty to Cuban insurgents.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 7, M.—Treasurer Spinner has a dispatch announcing the plundering of the United states depository at Santa Fe. W. J. C. Jones, Depositor was found shot through the heart. The last statement from the Depository, was that Coddington had been removed and his successor, who had just arrived, telegraphed the tragedy.

FROM FRANCE.

MADRID, June 7, M.—The Constitution was published on yesterday. The Executive council and the Cortes appeared on the platform.

When the Secretary of the Cortes read the Constitution the immense concourse applauded loudly. Returning to the Chamber each member of the Cortes swore to protect the Constitution. Some hisses were heard after the promulgation of the Constitution, a tumult ensued which only subsided when the military having failed the Governor of the City of Madrid rushed among the foremost rioters, crying "Viva Sonora Nacional. This changed the feeling of the fluctuating mob, which joined in cheering the Governor and the tumult subsided. Only two killed and several wounded. Subsequently the deputies returned to the platform and reviewed thirty thousand troops.

The enthusiasm on all sides was very great. It was noticed, however, that none of the Republican Deputies participated in the proceedings. The civil procession followed the Grand Banquet, after which there was a display of fireworks. Over one hundred thousand from the country visited Madrid during the day.

A bill will be introduced by the cortes to-morrow granting Serrano Regent of realm but without power to sanction laws or disarm the chambers.

Direct taxes in the Spanish Colonies will be reduced one half on molasses, and small export duty on unrefined rum will be imposed.

ROBERT SOUTTER, OF GRANVILLE COUNTY,

Seeking the importance of spreading the growth of Wheat in this County; and the farmers, knowing so well the absolute necessity of supplying themselves at an early period with "Seed Wheat" of the finest quality, ready to plant in the Fall, the undersigned takes this early method of inviting applications from farmers, for what they may require to plant next Fall, of the very "Select Seed Wheat" which he expects to deliver at moderate prices, from the crop growing now at his "Oak and Farm" near Townsville, by the 1st inst.

This Wheat was planted last Fall, with Guano, of seed selected in Baltimore with great care by my predecessor, Mr. Chas. B. K. Taylor, who paid $2 25 for it there. It has had the advantage of a heavy top-dressing in Spring of Chicago bone Fertiliser, and is now very promising.

Like the good Sorghum Seed which I have offered to the farmers of Granville, I hope the orders for my "Seed Wheat" may be equally attractive, to absorb all that I can expect to spare of it.

Address me at Kittrell's Springs, or Mr. Thos. W. Taylor, at Oakland Farm.

"The BROOKLYN LIFE has made no half-way work of the adoption of this inestimable feature. It is noteworthy, in this connection, (as a merited tribute to the excellent Company (Brooklyn Life,) which has so gallantly raised the standard of reform in Life Insurance, that we find in the whole list of existing Companies, few competitors which deserve so much credit in respect of economy of management, or care, skill and judgment in the selection of risks."—INS. COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.—Annual

The Daily Sentinel.

From Putnam's Magazine for June.

THE BIRDS

One day in the bluest of summer weather,
Loitering under a hickory tree,
I heard five bobolinks merrying together
Over some ornithological joke.

What the fun was I couldn't discover—
Language of birds is a riddle on earth;
What could the field in white weed and clover
To split their sides with such musical mirth?

Was it some prank of the prodigal summer—
Face in the cloud or voice in the breeze—
Querulous catbird, woodpecker, drummer—
Cawing of crows high over the sky?

Was it some chip-munk's clatter—or was it
Under the stone-wall stealthy and sly?—
Or was the joke about me at my ease,
Trying to catch the taste of the sky?

Still they flew tipsily, shaking all over,
Bobbing with jollity, bumpers of glee—
While I sat listening deep in the clover,
Wondering what their jargon could be.

'Twas but the voice of a morning the bright at—
That ever dawned over you shadowy hills;
'Twas but the song of all joy that is lightest—
Sunshine breaking in laughter and trills.

Vain to conjecture the words they are singing,
Only by tones can we follow the line;
In the full heart of the Summer birds ringing,
Ringing the rythmical gladness of June!

PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so muddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he roots into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 5,592 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,005,500.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.63

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 302

By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey,	603
" New England Mutual,	543
" Phœnix Mutual,	335
" Massachusetts Mutual,	312
" Equitable of New York,	277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.

In its 10th year,	1,903 "
And in its 20th year,	2,842 "

this latter being 690 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from this present date, be conducted by him

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's Snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any Boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot rude and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the coarsest. For Blankets it is invaluable, as it does not rub them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and releasing the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Warning day will be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany the introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & GILCHRIST'S, and see the wonderful operations.—as we have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the State.
